What's in a Name?

Knobel Karl asked Billie to help him and together they tried their Best to Philip the Stump with Pebbles. Just while they were working the hardest, Karl jumped up on the Stump so that he would not Freese.

Glancing around from his high perch, he saw Jeanete speeding down the highway in her Buss. She called to him that she was going to the depot to get the Newcomers. She came upon Marjorie at an Angle in the road. Poor Marjorie began to Myer and both girls started to Hollar. Berniece and Everett both ran to their aid, but before they got to them, Kenneth began to Crowe. Inez got there so Early that Thelma Felter to be sure she was awake.

At that moment Phyllis said her 'Unger was so great that she guessed she would eat the dates she always kept on her Callander. Richard, a very Wise man, told her to Reed as Louise does so that she might forget her hunger.

Charles, who is much Stouder than anyone else, arrived next. He had just licked a White teacher and a Brown boy. Myrtle said the next time he wanted to fight he could use her Field. Instantly Margaret, truly a Rehrer girl, began to give Ruth Ann so many Knox that she asked Elta to go North with her. Next Lester as Stout as any of them began his attacks on a Glass Man.

Irene, whose father incidentally is a Shoe Maker, does not give a Rapp for any man who isn't All Mann. Miss Briggs went out to Hunt for a Rose 'n Berry and told Mr. Roose that as long as Hee Stands and watches her, she will not be Abell to find either.

CLASSES

Explanation

Owing to economic conditions during the autumn of 1931, the class of 1932 was advised not to publish an Annual, but to consider the advisability of uniting with the class of 1933 in publishing an Annual should financial conditions permit such a venture.

While financial conditions in the autumn of 1932 were not improved, prices governing the publication of the annual were at least forty per cent lower than in 1931. The class of 1933, in view of these reduced costs, voted almost unanimously in favor of having an annual. A few weeks later, officials of the class of 1932 arranged with officials of the class of 1933 to furnish seven pages of the annual and to pay for the same.

The following six pages including this page are the contribution of the class of 1932. The class was composed of thirty-nine members. Only thirty-two members furnished pictures.

We, the class of 1932, desire to thank the members of the class of 1933 for permitting us to join with them in this venture. We also wish to thank every advertiser and every subscriber who have helped to make this annual a success.

1932 Class History

In 1920 a number of small boys and girls were brought to school by their proud parents, and were enrolled in the first grade as the Class of '32. These small children gradually grew and every year they advanced one step nearer to the time when they would enter high school. Finally, after eight long years of waiting the time arrived, the pupils received their report cards, and on them was written these three wonderful words, "Promoted to Freshman". Ah! Many were the proud parents who read these words. At last their little children were in high school.

So in the fall of 1928 fifty-five pupils entered the doors of that wonderful institution of learning, "Nappanee High School." Of course these pupils were very timorous because those of us who had older brothers had heard rumors of what the terrible upper classmen would do to us.

These Freshmen, realizing that they must have organization if they were to hold off this almost certain disaster, met and elected Mr. Roose, who had taken pity on us, and Miss Smith as our advisors. These two notables talked to us on the character and the standards of the pupils we should elect for our officers. So we elected Lowell Mullett to be our chief officer with Robert Miller as his assistant, Glen Field was made secretary-treasurer.

At a later class meeting, we selected the red rose as our flower and red and white for our class colors. We decided to get two pennants rather than one large one, so the secretary ordered two very pretty pennants. Of course, everybody needs a signboard for commencement, so we had the local electrician fix us a nice signboard with the board of white and the electric bulbs of red.

Very few of our number failed to make the necessary grades in the final examination for the year, which fact only adds to our fame.

So we separated for the summer vacation. But to our surprise only fifty-two returned for our Sophomore year in high school. We came early on that beautiful fall day in 1929 because we planned on getting our revenge on the new freshmen. However, all of them seemed to have been warned because they all remained in the assembly, or close to some teacher.

This year we elected Charles Lehman, Wava Miner and Robert Miller as our officers and Mr. Byers and Miss Shively as our advisors.

The principal class party was held at Blosser's Park. Despite the many falls and collisions, no one was killed, but several were slightly injured.

We parted for the summer, but all of us planned to come back unless something happened. Then when school did start we found we had lost only five from our ranks. When we came back we were forty-seven strong.

We elected Charles Lehman, president; Robert Miller, vice president; and Glen Field, secretary-treasurer. This year Mr. Byers and Miss Rosenberry were our advisors. In November we held a theatre party at South Bend. As Mr. Byers was not able to accompany us, Mr. Goodrich went instead.

We selected "Second Childhood" as our class play. The characters in this play were excellent and showed real talent.

We also gave the Seniors and faculty a very presentable reception at the Coppes Hotel.

In September of 1931 we returned to school as dignified (?) seniors. Ah! How important we felt, and how insignificant were the under classmen. The first thing we did was to select class officers. Charles Lehman was chosen president, Robert Miller, vice president, Vivian Eppley, secretary, and LaVerne Miller, treasurer.

We had a progressive party late in the fall. First we went to John Stahly's for a wiener roast, then to Harold Umbaugh's where refreshments were served, and finally to Julia Blosser's where the evening was spent playing games. This year we presented the play "Dulcy". This one, as well as the one in our Junior year, was a great success.

We were splendidly entertained at the reception given by the Junior Class at the Coppes Hotel.

On the twenty-seventh of May, we reached the climax of our school career for the thirty-nine members of our Senior class received their diplomas.

We have not completed our high school course without overcoming many difficulties, but the friendships and associations and the many good times we have had together have far surpassed those difficulties.

Now that we have finished these four years of training, our places will be taken by the under-classmen. These treasured days have gone, but they will not be forgotten, for there are memories that even Father Time cannot erase.

Class Plays

During our high school career, we presented two plays. The first one, Second Childhood, was given during our Junior year in the City Auditorium on April 30, 1931.

The next play, Dulcy, was presented in our Senior year on May 4, 1932. Both plays were very successful. We contribute this success to our directress, Miss Briggs.

Senior Class History

During eight years of elementary school, we, the class of 1933, built a car which was as fine as any ever constructed. One thing it lacked: There were no wheels.

We began to make the first wheel in September, 1929. Wilfred Troup—president; Howard Strycker—vice president; Jane Kurtz—secretary; Carolyn Mullett—treasurer and our advisors, Miss Heestand and Mr. Martin, constituted half of the spokes. The rest of them were: purple, gold, the yellow rose, "To strive to Do and Not to Fail," Marjorie Anglemyer—student council member, and 61 other freshmen

Of course, we needed hubcaps on our car. The hubcap of our first wheel was a skating party in Stuckman Hall. The tire, which is the best part of the wheel, was the last thing to put on. Commencement, the first one we attended after we were somebody, was our first tire.

After completing one wheel, the next one we made with a little more confidence and skill.

Besides the four main spokes (the class colors, flower, and motto,) this year we chose for the others: Karl Freese—president; Wilfred Troup—treasurer; Miss Heestand and Mr. Schuler—advisors; Glenwyn Walters and Marjorie Anglemyer—student council members.

Our second hubcap was a cootie party, preceded by a pot-luck supper. The tire again took shape in the form of commencement.

We made each wheel a little better than the one before. This year a rule was made by which it became impossible for us to change our advisors. That caused two spokes to remain stationary in all the wheels. To make the right number of spokes, we were obliged to make one spoke instead of two with the purple and gold. We added six other spokes as follows: Wilfred Troup—president; Karl Knoble—secretary; Wade Miller—treasurer; Karl Freese, Reed Newcomer, and Glenwyn Walters—all student council members.

This year we had to make a change in the finishing touches. The Junior-Senior Reception and the class play, Letters, we made into a tire. In fact, they were so important that we made a balloon tire. Commencement took second place in humbling itself to become the hubcap.

It was after three years of pleasant hard work that we started to construct the last wheel. Now we were allowed four student council members. The twelve complete spokes are: (1) Purple and gold and the yellow rose; (2) "To Strive to Do and Not to Fail"; (3) Mr. Abell and (4) Mr. Roose—advisors; (5) Karl Freese—president; (6) Fred Lopp—vice president; (7) Evelyn Walters—secretary; (8) Karl Knobel—treasurer; (9) Philip Stump, (10) Virginia Richmond, (11) Carolyn Mullett, and (12) Raymond Gall—all student council members. The Junior-Senior Reception was this wheel's hubcap and commencement once more occupied the place of the tire.

One thing more we found we must do. The car needed a coat of paint. The class of '33 published the ninth volume of the Napanet to finish its career in the Nappanee Public Schools.

Class Will

I

We, the class of 1933, bringing to a close our happy, carefree, twelve years of schooling, wish to extend to our classmates our last will and testament.

I, Richard Wise, bequeath my will power to stay away from all "fems" to my brother Robert.

I, Clemert Kyle, will my good standing with all teachers to Jack Stout.

I, Dorothy Keck, bequeath to Helen Shively my chance of playing all noon basket-ball games.

I, Wilfred Troup, seeing as I exchange no graduation pictures with any Senior girls, bequeath all my handsome portraits to Daisy Orcutt.

I, Fred Lopp, will Alberta Weygand to next year's basket-ball star, Francis Berlin.

I, Garnette Walters, will to John Crawford my large bottle of H^2 O^2 (Hydrogen Peroxide) to be used only when his hair comes in dark at the part.

I, Marion Rensberger, bequeath my skill of dealing one's self a good poker hand from the bottom of a deck of cards to Max Minard.

I, Reed Newcomer, will my "way with women" to my younger brother Charles, if he promises not to go too much "that Way."

I, Jeanette Buss, will my boy friend from Hammond to my good friend, Miriam Geyer, if he doesn't become too fond of her.

I, Clifford Jervis, will all my love to June Best.

I, George Hershberger, bequeath the new car I drive to Jeanne Wilson and Fred Reed to be used only on nights when the "folks" are home.

I, Bill Pepple, wish to have the well known Pepple Pivot Play changed to Pippen Pivot Play.

I, Berniece Hollar, bequeath my height to Robert Mishler.

I, Monalou Slabaugh, will my sister, Kathryn, to Roberts Reed and Unger.

I, Harold Miller, bequeath my scholarly appearance to "Bing" Strang.

I, Evelyn Walters, will my Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights to Francis Risley.

I, Glenwyn Walters, will Dale Anglemeyer to Vivian Richmond for one night a week, only.

I, Mary Furney, will to Chester Rassmussen my new novel "Getting Up in the World."

I, Glen Conrad, bequeath to Genevieve Yarian my good standing with Dutch Schuler.

I, Wade Miller, will my little niece to Everette Hollar.

I, Marjorie Anglemeyer, will Doris Babcock my place of existence so she can be as near Joe Stouder as possible.

I, Loyal Corwin, will my knowledge of Chemistry to Sam Brumbaugh.

I, Karl Freese, will my first chair cornet to Mary Jane Stose.

I, Kathryn Richmond, will my sweet disposition to Miriam Grasz.

I, Lamar Reed, bequeath my angelic appearance to Shorty Phillips.

I, Raymond Gall, bequeath my ability to "tickle the ivories" to Devoe Stackhouse.

I, Ruth Josephine Eppley, will my report card to Galen Phillips to use as his own, providing his mother will not die from the shock.

I, Virginia Richmond, will my reserve nature to Mary Lou Long.

I, Carolyn Mullett, will to Willodene Walters my clarinet which I think plays better than hers.

I, Mary Jeanette Rickert, bequeath to Dorothy Arnott all my "out of town dates."

I, Louise Reed, will my studiousness to Phyllis Unger.

I, Philip Stump, bequeath my sense of humor to Olive Anderson to be used every day in every way.

I, Thurlo Clouse, will my thick, black eyebrows to Phyllis Hare.

I, Donald Wagner, will my much admired, wavy, brown hair to Earl Chamberlain.

I, Ralph Rummel, will my Clark Gable actions to Tuffy Tobias.

I, Charles Stouder, bequeath my "cow boy strut" to Robert Quigley.

We, Katherine Mellinger and Willodene Snider will our Madison boy friends to any two girls who dare try get them away from us.

II

Keeping in mind the few more years of constant suffering, we wish to leave

To the Seventh and Eighth Grades all the knowledge we could not use.

To the Freshmen the sweet thoughts of being through school.

To the Sophomores our best wishes of pleasing Seniors next year.

To the Juniors all our left over dollars to be used in putting on a reception.

To the school the promise of no more 1933 Seniors.

To the Basket Ball Team the promise of backing the old Blue and White in years to follow.

III

No greater gift could come from the Seniors whose hearts are overflowing with love and sympathy.

In witness whereof, we the class of 1933 seal this last will and testament on the twenty-first day of May, A. D., one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three.

Junior Class History

A Play of Five Scenes - - - - - - -

The auditorium is packed! Not an empty seat can be found! The stage lights flash on; the big crystal chandeliers are turned off. The Class of "'34" is about to be presented. Watch closely, folks, and keep your seats. We thank you for your attention.

Here it is! - - - - - - -

The first scene is in room thirteen. Genny Yarian seems to be the president of the large group assembled here. To her left is Willy Walters, vice president. Vivian Richmond occupies the seat of secretary-treasurer. The fun begins! At first the class seems bewildered but soon it wears the look of a well poised student.

The room is decorated in blue and gold, and forget-me-nots perfume the air. How could you forget a class like this, the one which we are just introducing to you.

Fun! Watch them! There they are, having a grand time. The place? Inez Early's. Yes, eating wieners and buns and big dill pickles.

What? Another party? Sure enough! You remember now. Don't you? That good old Hallowe'en Party the eighth graders invited us to. Many a student went home with black and blue spots that night!

The second scene—Wendy Frederick is president, Russ Gonser, vice president, Mary Mullett, secretary, and Shorty Phillips, treasurer.

We see another party going on. It is at Stuckman's Hall. Those students are surely enjoying themselves!

Third scene—Look! They have changed their colors now They are green and white. And look at the white roses, will you? Russ Gonser presides. To his left is Wendy Frederick, and to his right is Willy Walters. Yes, this scene takes place in the freshman year in high school.

We see a theater party assembling. Sh! There is the picture on the screen. It is Dr. Fu Manchu!

Still another party. A skating party. Oh my! Miss Heckaman fell down. Better luck next time, teacher!

Scene Four—Again Wendy presides as president, John McFall becomes vice president and Maryjane Stose, secretary-treasurer. Curly Pippen and Thelma Felter are our members on the Student Council.

Oh———Look! A barn party! At Mary Mishler's, too! What are they doing? Eating ice cream and cake. Oh boy! Look at them now. They are doing the "skip to my Lou!" Each laddie finds his lassie. What do you think of that? Some good looking couples, too, and can they play party games!

Big Treasure hunt at Helen and Dean Slabaugh's! They certainly look like pirates—those pupils grabbing at tin pans spun on the floor and eating raspberry pie with whipped cream on it!

The fifth and last scene—(That is, until next year.) Genny Yarian is president, Maggie Richcreek is vice president, and Thelma Felter is secretary-treasurer. Vivian Richmond is social chairman with Wendy Frederick assisting her.

Again we see another party! This time at Geyer's Dam. Wieners, catsup, (Do we like catsup?) and buns. Oh yes, and marsh mallows too. The students aren't as peppy as usual. Are they? Perhaps it's the Harvest moon. We do begin to grow up. Don't we?

We are afraid, dear audience, we must close this scene. There will be more next year. Thanking you again, we say - - -

Adios until "'34"

Sophomore Class History

Our dirigible "The Class of '35" took off from mooring mast 13, on field 7, for the port "Graduation" on September 3, 1929.

With Miss Heckaman as our pilot and the aid of the fifty-six cooks, dishwashers carpenters, musicians, and other helpers, we glided on quickly.

We landed for the summer and when, in the fall of 1930, we started out from mooring mast 10 on field 8, we found that a change in pilots had been made. This year they were Miss Shively and Mr. Holaway.

As our dirigible traveled very fast, we were soon started on another lap (the third) of our journey. This was different from the other part of our journey, but as we were "green but growing" we soon became very well acquainted with the new regulations with Miss Lantz and Mr. Hunt piloting us. Howard Bock was elected president; Donald Frederick, vice president; Marvin Brumbaugh, secretary-treasurer. During this lap of our journey, we found ourselves on a skating rink where several made forced landings.

This year Dale Christner is president; John Crawford, vice president; and Carl Conrad, secretary-treasurer. These, along with Miss Shively and Mr. Hunt, help in carrying on our business.

Although most of our class had a "hard time" at our "Hard Times" party, we are happy and are eagerly looking forward to the time when we shall reach our destination, Graduation.

IF

If everyone within this school
Would make his law the Golden Rule,
This school would be the best of its kind
That in the United States you could find.

There'd be no snickering behind backs,
No double-crossing, no hard cracks,
No puppy loves that make us fools,
And best of all, no school rules!

—Vivian Richmond

BOOSTERS

Boost your town, boost your friend,
Boost the school that you attend,
Boost the street on which you're dwelling
Boost the team and keep on yelling,
Boost the people round about you
They can't get along without you,
But success will quickly find them
If they find that you're behind them;
Boost for every forward movement,
Boost for every new improvement,
Boost the man for whom you labor,
Boost the stranger and the neighbor.
Cease to be a chronic knocker.
Cease to be a progress blocker.
If you'd make your own school better
Boost it to the final letter.

—B. A. Booster

'TWAS THE NIGHT BEFORE FRIDAY

'Twas the night before Friday, when all thru the gym,
Not a person was silent, not even Earl Linn.
The people were seated, in the bleachers with care.
In hopes that the time would soon be there.
The bulldogs were resting, like as before
While Schuler's plans danced on the floor.
Then out on the floor, there shrieked such a whistle.
'Twas the referee's whistle, and all gave a start,
While the Bulldogs were stirring, each for his part.
More rapid than eagles, the passes they came
And all whistled and shouted and cheered them by name.
Win, Pepple! Win, Pippen! Win, Shorty! Win, Troup!
Fight, Conrad, fight! Fight, Freddy! Fight, Bulldogs! Fight out!
Now, fight away! fight away fight! fight all!
So they pass on the sphere, thru the loop on the wall;
As fast as the dry leaves, that before the hurricane swoop.
When they meet an obstacle, they pass through the loop.
The Bulldogs, as you know, are in perfect trim,
Doing each play though it was a small thin'.
The game was over, when the gun did crack,
But the Bulldogs gave Goshen another slap on the back!

—Lyle Strauss.

ENIGMA

Why do birds have feathers?
Why is the sky blue?
Why don't birds talk?
Why do you?

Why does the sun shine?
What makes the wind blow?
Why does the rain fall?
Why don't you know?

Why do worms crawl?
Why don't they fly?
Why are roses red?
Please tell me why.

Why is the snow white?
Why isn't it red?
What makes people die?
Does it hurt to be dead?

Why do stars shine?
Why so high in the sky?
Why does the moon change shapes?
Oh, I wish I knew why.

—Helen Syler

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

Blackberries are red when they are green?
Our days are numbered—all calendars prove it?
The nursery is usually a bawl room?
Few women draw but most of them paint?
Even tombstones say good things about a man when he's down?
Dreams are moving pictures while you sleep?
Even a fish won't get caught if he keeps his mouth shut?
Vanity is what makes the looking-glass business?
A prominent woman's club is the rolling pin?
Gossips have a keen sense of rumor?
The best dressmakers make slips?
Vacant stares indicate empty spaces in the upper story?

FRESHMAN CLASS PARTY

The freshmen decided to act their age on January 9, so with their advisors, Miss Rosenberry, and Mr. Byers, celebrated with a "kid party" in the gym.

The girls donned hair ribbons and brought their dolls. Each child brought his own lunch. The evening was spent in playing games.

SOPHOMORE CLASS PARTY

In keeping with the times, the sophomores gathered themselves together on the ninth day of November for a hard time party in the gym.

After searching the grounds for unknown treasure, they came upon a box of much needed life savers.

For the remainder of the evening, they played old-fashioned games and ate pop corn, candy, and apples.

Miss Shively and Mr. Hunt, sponsors, were present.

JUNIOR CLASS PARTY

On October 10, the Junior class with Miss Newby and Mr. Postma went out to enjoy the country air, by having a "wiener roast" at Geyer's dam.

A huge fire was built and everyone seemed to enjoy the roast—burn, ashes, and all. After the wieners had disappeared and dusk had fallen, they gathered around the fire and told stories.

HI-Y FATHERS' AND SONS' BANQUET

On November 22 the Hi-Y held their third annual Fathers' and Sons' Banquet at the United Brethren Church.

The program consisted of the following: Welcome, by Karl Freese, Jr.; Response, by Mr. Roy Berlin; music by "The Farmland Four" and Robert Widmoyer; and a talk, enjoyed by everyone present, given by the Reverend Mr. Melville.

G. R. LITTLE SISTER PARTY

On September 28 the Girl Reserves with prospective members, as little sisters, met in room twenty for a pot-luck supper. About forty, including the advisors, indulged in the meal of the evening.

Vivian Richmond, social chairman, had charge of the program, which consisted of pep songs led by Genevieve Yarian; characteristic child poems by Jeanette Buss and Miriam Geyer; bedtime story by Willodean Walters; and reports from the girls who attended Camp Killoqua.

After playing games in the gym, the meeting was closed by singing "Taps".

Calendar

SEPTEMBER

6—School began! And did the "Freshies" ever get in the wrong rooms?

13—The Reverend Mr. Owens spoke before the high school.

14—Hi-Y boys held a meeting to get organized.

25 and 26—Assembly singing under the direction of Mr. Byers.

OCTOBER

4—The Reverend Mr. Snyder spoke to the senior high school.

5—The Reverend Mr. Foudy gave a talk to the junior high school.

11 and 12—A Latin program was presented by the Latin classes under the direction of Miss Newby.

18 and 19—An art appreciation program was given under the supervision of Miss Rosenberry.

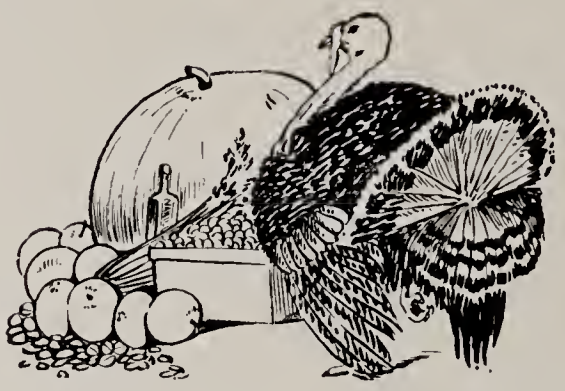
25 and 26—A very interesting travel talk was given by Miss Heckaman.

NOVEMBER

1—The Reverend Mr. Studebaker from the Church of the Brethren gave a short talk to the senior high school.

2—Mrs. Studebaker spoke to the junior high school.

9—A W. C. T. U. chalk talk was given to the entire high school. Miriam Geyer sang several solos.



16—A short talk was given to the junior high school by Mr. Roy Ruckman.

22 and 23—A Thanksgiving playlet was given by the home economics class under the direction of Miss Heestand.

30—Mrs. Galen Roose, Mrs. Harvey Postma, and Mrs. Harvey Fredericks gave readings and a piano solo to the entire high school.

DECEMBER

7—The Reverend Mr. Pettit spoke before the junior high school.

13 and 14—The glee clubs sang several numbers before the high school

The glee clubs are directed by Miss Lantz.

20—The seventh graders gave playlets on Christmas time in different countries. This program was under the leadership of Miss Heckaman.

23—School dismissed a day early for vacation because of so much sickness.

JANUARY

3—School started again. Everyone was ready for anything including the exams.

11—The G. R. had a supper. (How did you like the soup, girls?)

13—The Future Farmers had a banquet. It must have been some "affair" from all the good smells that were floatin' through the halls.

17—We wonder where the junior boys got all their brilliant ideas for "constitution."

18—The Naps played Wakarusa in a charity game. Guess the Bulldogs were a little too "wild" for the Indians.

19 and 20—EXAMS!! Some of the "high browed seniors" had to take only one!

21—Basket-ball tourney was held in Mishawaka. The "Puppies" won their share of it.

22—The glee clubs sang at the First Brethren Church.

23—The new semester started. A number of the classes stretched.

25—Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller, Mrs. Arlene Stouder, and Rick Widmoyer gave us a musical entertainment. The freshmen had a "kid party". You should have seen the darling children.

28—Juniors had a rummage sale.

31—The Reverend Mr. Maus spoke to the senior high school.

FEBRUARY

1—The Reverend Mr. Mullett talked to the junior high school.

2—Commercial Club held meeting.

7—Francis Risley and David Stump gave a playlet, "The Full Stomach."

8—Garnette thought Mr. Postma would catch her if she 'happened to accidently' sit on the floor. She sat!!!

11—The glee clubs sang at the Goshen High School Auditorium.

14—Movie, "Hats Off, the Flag is Passing By" was shown before the entire high school. All mirrors are

"banished" from the girls cloak-room!

15—A meeting was held on the subject of mirrors.

16—Hurrah! We girls have our mirrors back!

18—The girls (and some of the boys) have started a fad of wearing little bead dolls.

20—The glee clubs sang for the Kiwanis Club Meeting held at the Coppes Hotel.

21 and 22—Children from the first grades entertained us with a rhythm band and a George Washington playlet.

22—The G. R.s. enjoyed themselves at a George Washington party held in the school building. (I did it with my little hatchet, girls.)

23—There were several gentlemen in the crowd to-day. Who had the best looking moustache?

27—The basket-ball boys were given a dinner by the Kiwanis Club at the Coppes Hotel.

28—Wendell Frederick "got strong" and tore a piece off the window shade in chorus class.

MARCH

1—The Reverend Mr. John Hartman from Wakarusa spoke to the high school. Tsch! Tsch! Maryjane has been skating again.

3—Everyone all set for the sectional tourney at Elkhart. School closed in the afternoon.

6—Miss Briggs got her hair cut!

7—The Reverend Mr. Homer North from the North Mennonite Church spoke to the senior high school.

8—The Reverend Mr. Burns from the Methodist Church gave a talk to the junior high school.

10—There was a gentleman who wore a red moustache! An interclass tourney was held. The juniors beat the freshmen, the seniors beat the sophomores and Francis got a bloody nose.

13—Karl Freese received a "lip sticky" kiss from Ike Bock in Business English.

14—Group singing under direction of Mr. Byers.

16—Mr. Schuler gave the boys athletic awards.

17—Willy Troup did not sleep in school today because he wasn't here. The basket-ball squad journeyed to Indianapolis with Mr. Schuler to see the state tourney.

22—The eighth grade gave a program under the direction of Mr. Holaway. Several scenes from "Feather Top" were given. Luther Hartman presented three character sketches.

23—The glee clubs sang at the First Brethren Church.

24—Moving picture "Dan's Decision" was shown before the high school.

25—The red moustache has turned to green.

28—The Reverend Mr. Canfield, from the First Brethren Church, played the harmonica and guitar and gave a short talk.

29—The high school band played in the assembly.

THE FLORIST SHOP

Maude, the sentimental bookkeeper, in a flower shop, revels in love affairs. When Mr. Slovsky, the manager, instructs her to send complimentary flowers to customers where they would do the most good, she sends five-dollar sprays of orchids (without a card) to Miss Wells, an old maid, who has been engaged to Mr. Jackson for fifteen long years. Slovsky discovers what Maude has been doing and fires her. Miss Wells and Mr. Jackson meet accidently in the store where they discuss this (hypothetical) young stranger who has made a fool of himself over her. Miss Wells agrees to give him up for Mr. Jackson. Maude is ready to leave when Miss Wells returns and gives her order for wedding flowers to Maude. Mr. Slovsky is sorry for his mistake and Maude is once more the sympathetic bookkeeper.

THE VALIANT - - - - - - -

James Dyke, a murderer, is to be hanged at midnight. Warden Holt and Father Daly have tried to make him tell his name and what he wants done with some liberty bonds which he owns. Many people from various countries have written in to the warden to ask whether Dyke is their missing husband, brother, or sweetheart. Dyke is not repentant, and will not reveal his identity.

The governor grants an interview to a certain Josephine Paris who thinks that Dyke is her long lost brother. Although Dyke really is Joseph Anthony Paris, her brother, he tells her that he saw her brother die in France. Josephine is greatly relieved and leaves to go home to tell her mother of the bravery of her brother Joe.

James Dyke, alias Joseph Paris, is hanged that night, and goes to his death repeating "The Valiant Never Tastes of Death but Once."

Diploma Hour

The graduating class of 1933 numbers forty-one students. There are twenty-four boys and seventeen girls. It is seldom that we have a class composed of such a large per cent of boys. The class of 1930 boasted thirty-one boys out of a total of fifty-seven. The average age of the boys is—18 years, 1 month, 11 days. The average age of the girls is—18 years, 0 months, 26 days. The boys graduate 1 month and 6 days older than the boys of 1931, and 16 days younger than the boys of 1930. The girls graduate 9 days younger than the girls of 1931, and 2 months and 3 days older than the girls of 1930. Both the oldest and the youngest graduates are girls. The youngest is Ruth Josephine Eppley, age 16 years, 7 months and 8 days. This is the third time in the past seven years that the youngest graduate has been the valedictorian, and in 1930 the youngest gave the salutatory.

Seven members of this class celebrate March birthdays. Two have "twin" birthdays on March 26, 1915. One celebrates Inauguration Day. Following March, the months of August and October are the most popular. There are "twin" birthdays on August 17, 1915. The March "twins" are boys; the August "twins" are girls. September, January, June and July are almost out of the picture when considering birthdays. There are none in September, one in cold January, and two in each June and July. A May pair of "twins", a girl and a boy just celebrated their 18th birthday the day before yesterday, May 27. No member celebrates an important holiday, but one member was born on December 31st, so blesses the retreat of the old year.

The deportment and attendance of this class have been exceptionally good. Approximately 50% of the class have been on the exemption list every time during the past seven semesters and we expect more than 50% on the exemption list for the last or eighth semester.

To William Pepple goes the honor for the best attendance. According to attendance records in the principal's office, William missed only 5/6 of a day during the four years up to the date of this writing. Donald Wagner ranks second, having missed 1½ days. Evelyn Walters ranks third with 2 5/6 days absence, and Karl Knobel fourth with 3 days absence. Five other students missed 6 days or less: Glenn Conrad, George Hershberger, Fred Lopp, Virginia Richmond and Garnette Walters. Several others have good records and a few were especially unfortunate because of only one case of sickness. Loyal Corwin, for example, has a perfect attendance and deportment record for his junior and senior years. Marjorie Anglemyer missed only 5 days during her Freshman, Sophomore and Senior years, and Glenwyn Walters has missed only 7 days, which is only one above the number for honor students mentioned above. The total number of days missed during the Freshman year was 118; during the Sophomore year 195; during the Junior year 208½; and during the Senior year to date 99.

The class plays were "The Valiant" and "The Florist's Shop."

The approximate cost of the Napanet was $440.00.

The Editor-in-Chief was Philip Stump. The Assistant Editor-in-Chief, Thurlo Clouse.

The Business Managers were Reed Newcomer and Wilfred Troup.

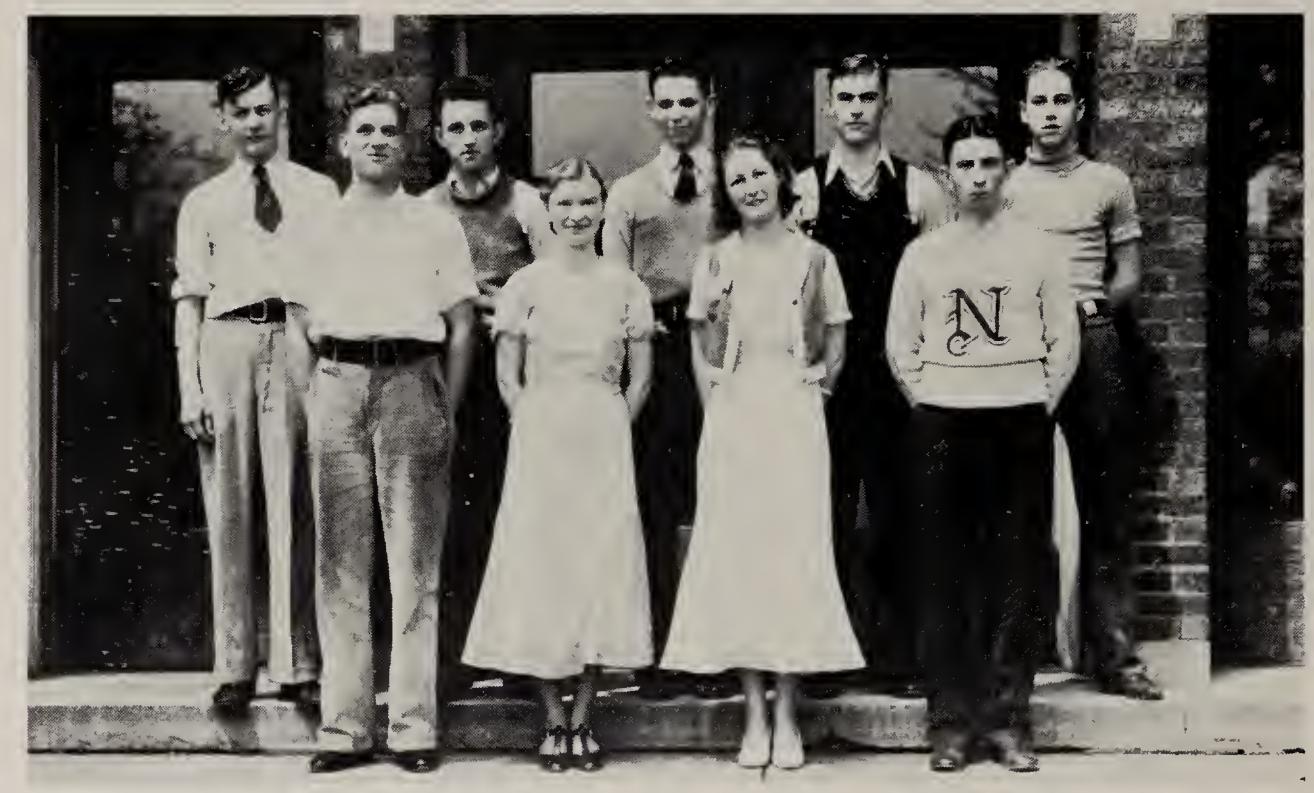
The Junior-Senior Reception was at the M. E. Church, May 19.

The Salutatory was given by Karl Knobel.

The Valedictory was given by Ruth Josephine Eppley.

Commencement was held Monday night, May 29th.

ORGANIZATIONS



Napanet Staff

Back Row: Karl Knobel, Treasurer; Reed Newcomer, Assistant Business Manager; Philip Stump, Editor; Thurlo Clouse, Assistant Editor; Clemert Kyle, Artist.

Second Row: Wilfred Troup, Business Manager; Evelyn Walters, Calendar and Joke Editor; Jeanette Buss, Snapshot Editor; George Hershberger, Sports Editor.

Advisors: (Not in Picture) Mr. Abell, Mr. Roose, Miss Heestand.

The Napanet staff realizes that this volume of the school annual could not have been published so successfully had it not been for the help given by the various teachers and students. Thank you for your splendid co-operation.

There were times when it did not look as if we would be permitted to print the annual, but through the encouragement given by Mr. Abell and the school board, we have succeeded in its publication.

We hope that this year book will always be a means of remembering your days in Nappanee High School. —T. C.

Bookmarkers' Club

Student Council

Standing: Philip Stump, Amos Culp, Raymond Gall.

Sitting: Russell Gonser, Mr. Roose, advisor, Virginia Richmond, Miriam Grasz, Carolyn Mullett, Moine Rowland, Howard Bock.

The Student Council, which is organized every year, is composed of ten members

At the first meeting of the year, we elected officers as follows: Philip Stump, president and Virginia Richmond, secretary.

The project of sanitation in the school was carried out successfully during the year. This project was to keep the floors free from paper and have no loitering in the halls or cloakrooms.

During the remaining few weeks, we plan to draw up a constitution which will be kept on file.

We wish to thank the teachers and students who helped this organization make this year a success. —V. R.

Hi-Y Club

Third Row: William Best, Firm Widmoyer, Wayne Strycker, Donald Eckhart, George Herseberger, Francis Berlin, Clifford Jervis, Harold Miller, Fred Lopp.

On the thirteenth of October, seven new members were taken into the club, making a total membership of twenty-seven. The "rough initiation" was given to the new members in the high school building. The second degree of the initiation was administered on the next evening, the fifteenth of October, in the Methodist Church. The club will lose twelve members thru graduation.

The officers of the club for the year 1932-1933 were as follows: President—Frederick Lopp; Vice President—Karl Freese Jr.; Secretary—Raymond Gall; and Treasurer—Karl Knobel.

During the month of March the club had a Bible study contest between the classes represented in the club. Mr. White, the sponsor, was our teacher. A pennant was awarded to the Senior members for winning the contest.

On Thanksgiving the club aided the United Charities by giving ten baskets to needy people. The value of which was nearly fifteen dollars.

The club donated ten dollars for the teaching of the Bible in the lower grades.

For the last few years it has been the custom of the club to award a sportsmanship trophy to the Senior outstanding in athletics during the year, and also a jeweled Hi-Y pin to the member of the club who is outstanding in scholarship during his high school course. This year the trophy will be awarded to Frederick Lopp, and the pin to Karl Freese, Jr.

PURPOSE

To Find and Give the Best

Twenty-nine girls of the seventh and eighth grades of Nappanee High Schooi are members of the Junior Girl Reserves, which is a branch of the Y. W. C. A. and of the Senior Girl Reserves. The purpose of this organization is to help each girl to find and give the best.

During the year, we have tried to make each of our meetings interpret in some way the Girl Reserve Code. Our programs have consisted of stories, talks, readings, playlets, songs, and games.

The Nappanee Commercial Club was first organized in 1929 with Miss Plasterer acting as sponsor. The club has been reorganized each following year. Mr. Postma, present teacher of commerce, being sponsor the past two years.

The purpose of organizing this club is to further in every possible way the interests of commercial education in the high school.

Membership is limited to students enrolled in typewriting, bookkeeping, or shorthand during the school year.

Lowell Mullett was selected as the 1931-32 president. The following officers were chosen for 1932-33. President—Marjorie Anglemyer; Secretary—Mona Lou Slabaugh; Treasurer—Louise Reed.

Our club meetings were held Activity Period about every three weeks. Of the many interesting studies participated in perhaps the most interesting were: Freak Letters, Successful Business Men, Predicaments, and A Study of Vocations.

Our Commercial Club members have talent and demonstrated it in an assembly program given May 9 and 10.

Future Farmers

Back Row: Mr. Byers, advisor, Donald Wagner, Paul Slabaugh, Donald Miller, Otis Hunsberger, Joseph Stouder, Veloris Brown, Charles Stouder, Stanley Berger, Harold Miller.

Second Row: Lamar Stahly, Paul Sechrist, Ralph Tobias, Lyle Strauss, Lamar Slabaugh, Gerald Bleile, Harold McAfee, Raymond Gall, Donald Frederick.

The Future Farmers reorganized soon after school opened. They elected for officers—Veloris Brown, President; Dale Stouder, Vice President; Donald Frederick, Treasurer; Harold Miller, Reporter; and Lyle Strauss, Secretary.

Meetings were held every Thursday noon in Mr. Byer's room where lunches were eaten and business was discussed.

A basket-ball team was organized with Dean and Don Price as coaches. The team had a successful season with other chapters of this vicinity. On February 25, a blind F. F. A. tourney was staged in the local gym with Nappanee taking first place.

On January 15, a father and son banquet was given in the lower hall of the school. Miss Heestand and her Home Economics class prepared the meal.

The program consisted of music, short talks, and an address by Reverend Melville.

Harold Umbaugh was a delegate from Indiana at the International F. F. A. Congress held in January, 1933.

Don Miller, speaking on "The Allotment Plan", represented Nappanee in a county F. F. A. oratorical contest held in New Paris, March 14.

The chapter's contribution to the F. F. A. radio program over N. B. C. April 10, was music by the "Farmland Quartette" and an address by Harold Umbaugh, who has attained for himself the highest degree possible in F. F. A. work—"The American Farmer."

The "Big Ten" of the First Team

WILFRED TROUP
"Willie"

"Willie" played on the first team as a regular for three years. He played center his first year, forward his second year, and this year he played guard most of the time. Willie ends his basket-ball career this year and his absence will be felt.

FREDERICK LOPP
"Fritz"

"Fritz" played on the first team for three years. He was very fast on the floor and a marvelous dribbler. Fritz could be depended upon to come through when a basket was needed. He will be missed next year.

WILLIAM PEPPLE
"Bill"

Bill played on the second team for two years and on the first team for two years. He played forward on the tipoff and then played the foul line. Bill had a unique way of making under-basket shots, where a large majority of his points were scored from. Bill's loyalty to his team will be missed next year.

GEORGE HERSHBERGER
"Pork"

George was on the second team for two years and on the first team one year. He had a loyal spirit and worked hard as a member of the team.

GLEN CONRAD
"Coonie"

Glen played on the second team for two years and on the first team one year. "Coonie" used his six feet one inch to an advantage by getting rebounds under the basket.

CARLYLE PIPPEN
"Curly"

"Curly" is a junior who saw much action on the first team. He was perhaps the best shot on the team and next year he should prove to be a valuable man on the varsity squad.

KENNETH CROWE
"Kenny"

"Kenny" started the year with the second team, but Coach Schuler found that he was too good for that position and so advanced him to the first. "Kenny" is a fine defensive man and he has two more years to make a name for N. H. S.

GERALD PHILLIPS
"Shorty"

"Shorty" is one of the fastest men on the squad. He is a clever dribbler and a good defensive man. "Shorty" is only a junior and he should be of value to the blue and white next year.

GEORGE KNOBEL
"Pordy"

"Pordy" is one of the sophomores who is going to do big things for N. H. S. in the next two years. He has a good basket eye and a fighting spirit.

GALEN PHILLIPS
"Dumb"

"Dumb" is a junior who will come back to school next year to be of service to our first team.

First Team

Top Row: Mr. Roose, manager, Francis Risley, trainer, Mr. Schuler, Coach.

Middle Row: Fred Lopp, Carlyle Pippen, Wilfred Troup, William Pepple, Glen Conrad.

Bottom Row: George Knobel, Kenneth Crowe, Gerald Phillips, George Hershberger, Galen Phillips.

Third Row: David Hockert, Robert Reed, Donald Miller, Dale Christner.

Fourth Row: Lamar Tobias, James Richcreek, Wayne Strycker.

The Nappanee Bull Pups had a very successful season. They won nineteen games and lost two.

They lost to Syracuse by three points and to South Bend Central by five points. They gained revenge upon South Bend by beating them 24 to 20 in the blind tournament at Mishawaka the week following their defeat.

The second team, besides having a fine record, produced some fine sophomores who will be on the varsity next year. These boys worked hard in practice to better themselves as well as the first team whom they played against in practice. The school as well as the community should be proud of these boys and next year they should make a real name for the Blue and White.

The Nappanee High School baseball team of 1932-33 was one of the most evenly balanced teams ever turned out by the school. In the fall of 1932 the baseball team won nine games and lost none. Since there is no conference baseball schedul in the fall, these games were played against teams of neighboring towns.

This spring our club has four conference games. Two with Laporte and two with South Bend Central.

With a fine fall schedule behind them our club hopes to make a very creditable showing in conference games and make Nappanee High School as proud of her base-ball team as she is of her basket-ball team.

Track

Due to the large number of sport activities in the spring, not enough boys report for track to make a strong combination. Baseball, tennis and golf, as well as band contests, claim too much time for much track work to be done. A good schedule has been arranged and a successful season is expected.

Tennis

The tennis teams at Nappanee during the last two years have been slightly above the average due to increased interest and better courts. This year with six conference tennis matches on our schedule we again hope to make a creditable showing for Nappanee.

There were two leagues organized for noon basket-ball, Senior High and Junior High. Sixty-four boys played on the Senior High league and thirty-four boys on the Junior High league.

Numerals are given to boys playing on the teams. It takes fifteen points to get these numerals. Five points are generally given each year but the boys playing on the winning team get ten points each. Numerals can not be received in less than two years.

An interclass basket-ball tournament was held in March. The Seniors outclassed the Juniors in the final game.

Girls' Athletics

The Girls' Athletic Association was organized in 1931. It is under the supervision of the girls on the Student Council, known as the G. A. A. Committee, Mr. Roose, and Miss Heckaman. The purpose of the association is to encourage sports for recreation.

Basket-ball, baseball, volley ball, hiking, track, and tennis are the six major sports. The first three of these give girls the opportunity to participate in group playing. In basket-ball the group of girls is divided into teams under the leadership of captains. Each team plays four games as scheduled. Baseball and volley ball contests are carried on in the same way.

Hikes are taken on suitable days with an official conducting. A hike consists of walking five miles in at least eighty minutes.

There are two tennis groups: one including those girls who are contestants; the other including those who are learning how to play.

For track, there are about five practices, and then one big trackmeet which will decide the winners in the eight different events. Among the events are the running broad jump, standing broad jump, low hurdles, seventy-five yard dash, fifty yard dash, baseball throw, relay—four hundred yards, and the high jump.

Hiking, tennis, and track put a girl on her own initiative to win, hence developing confidence.

When a girl has earned one hundred fifty points, she is eligible for a NHS monogram. More girls are eligible for monograms this year than ever before.

Francis Risley says there's only one way to raise a mustache. And that is—"Before retiring at night, rub the upper lip well with salt. You must then get a pail of water and place it at the head of your bed. The hairs, being thirsty, will come forth for a drink. The aspirant should then quickly tie a knot in the hairs and they will stay out. (Hey, who's throwing things?)"

"Why didn't you type your poems?"

"If I knew enough to run a typewriter, do you suppose I would be writing poetry?"

Johnny: "When I'm invited out to dinner, I shouldn't eat pie with a fork should I, Aunt Sue?"

Aunt Sue: "Certainly, Johnny."

Miss Brigs (In Business English giving an example of a complex sentence) "The house where I live is empty."

Burdette Arch—"A dog was running down the street very fast. Nothing was behind him and he wasn't chasing anything. Why was he running so fast?"

Jeanette Richmond — "I don't know."

Burdette—"Because he was in a hurry."

Two small boys at the newsboys' dinner put their grimy hands side by side on the table cloth.

"Mine's dirtier'n yourn!" exclaimed one triumphantly.

"Huh!" said the other, disdainfully "You're two years older'n me."

Did you ever notice that a hard boiled egg is yellow inside?

Thurlo (In English Class again) —"Did you hear about the man who ran over himself?"

Miss Briggs—"No."

Thurlo—"A man told a certain boy to run across the street and get a package of cigarettes. The boy didn't have time to go so the man ran over himself."

Teacher—"Repeat in your own words; 'I see the cow. The cow is pretty. The cow can run.'"

Colored Student—"Lamp the cow. Ain't she a beaut? And say, baby, can she step?"

IN THE FUTURE

there will be banks in Indiana as now, because no state or community can thrive without banks.

It is very important then, that the protective arm which the State of Indiana has thrown around this fundamental business, should be strengthened and upheld.

We must work to secure and maintain the best possible banking laws, not for our own protection but for the happiness and security of the future generation.

Dinner was being served in the London boarding house in which an American was lodged. The proprietress, bringing in a dish of soup for the American remarked, "It looks like rain."

"Yes, it does," replied the American, "but it smells a little like soup."

A back country boy came to the the country fair for the first time. The thing that interested the boy most was the brass band and more particularly the slide trombone player who was something of an artist on the old "slip-horn."

Finally the boy nudged the man next to him and said, "You know there's some trick about that, 'cause I know dog-gone well he ain't swallerin' that thing."

"How's business?" A traveling man asked the new barber.

"It's so quiet," replied the barber, "you can hear the notes drawing interest a block away at the First National Bank."

Conductor: "Ticket, sir."

Mr. Gold. "My face is my ticket—I'm the president of this road."

Conductor: "I'm sorry, sir, but I have orders to punch every ticket."

"I'm very tired," said the lady at the head of the supper table, one Sunday evening.

"You should not be," said her minister who had been asked to the evening meal. "You haven't preached two sermons today."

"No," said the lady, absentmindedly, "but I listened to them."
